Supervised Visitation and Exchange

What is Teresa's Place?

Teresa's Place provides a safe, secure, and culturally accessible place for parents to visit or exchange their children when domestic violence, sexual assault, child abuse, or stalking has occurred within the family.

We believe everyone has the right to be safe. Our services and policies have been developed to reflect an understanding of domestic violence and to provide safety, first and foremost to adult victims of family violence and their children.

Our professional staff believes everyone should be treated with respect and dignity and we value multiculturalism and diversity. Therefore, Teresa's Place will tailor services to meet a family's unique needs when it is safe and possible to do so.

How Do I Access Services?

Teresa's Place primarily accepts referrals from the courts; however, some referrals maybe accepted on a case by case basis. Each parent must call Teresa's Place to schedule an individual intake and orientation appointment. The intake is a time where parents meet Teresa's Place staff, learn more about our services, and we get to discuss your needs. If your family is eligible for our services, you will be scheduled based on the availability of time, space, and staff.

How Do I Contact Teresa's Place?

If you want to use the services at Teresa's Place, each parent must call us at (719) 545-1665. No walk-ins are permitted at any time. Staff is also available to answer any questions you have during our regular business hours.

How Much Does Teresa's Place Charge for Services?

Our fees work on a sliding scale. After the intake we will be able to let you know what the fees will be for your visit or exchange.

Where Do Services Occur?

All visits and exchanges happen at Teresa's Place, located in Pueblo at 710 W. 4th Street in Suite G. If directions are needed, please call us.
